Exhibition

This exhibition displays the outcome of the research-based MSc course “Tectonics in Engineering and Architectural Design” – taught at Aarhus University’s Department of Civil and Architectural Engineering – as well as select examples of ongoing research on ruled surface structures. The driving hypothesis behind the featured studies and projects is that modular construction with ruled surface elements can contribute to reuse and circular construction, and thus reduce the environmental impact of buildings.

Navitas Exhibition Space
Aarhus University
Inge Lehmanns Gade 10
8000 Aarhus C

7 Dec 2021 – 7 Jan 2022
Monday to Thursday from 8.00 – 17.00
Friday from 08.00 – 16.00

Please note that public accessibility is subject to COVID-19 related restrictions.

Contact
cae@au.dk